PROFESSIONAL PRACTICE

Carmen is a Dominican practitioner who focuses her practice on international arbitration, both commercial and investment disputes.

Before joining Adell & Merizalde, Carmen worked as a law clerk in a top-tier multinational law firm in Santo Domingo, where she gained considerable experience in commercial and investment arbitration disputes under a variety of arbitration rules and institutions. She has significant experience in disputes within the construction, natural resources, retail, and sports industries. Carmen has also contributed on matters of civil, commercial and employment litigation, as well as acquisition due diligence projects.

She participated in the Philip C. Jessup International Law Moot Court Competition where she ranked as a top oralist in the international rounds and continues to be involved with the competition as a coach for her university's team. She also holds a First Class Honors Bachelor of Arts degree in International Politics, Economics and Law from Middlesex University London, where she worked as a learning assistant for the Introduction to Development, and UK & EU Human Rights Law courses.
